TROUBLE OVER MINE. W. B. MacSherry Made Defendant in

Suit Filed Yesterday. David W. Medbury has filed suit in the district court against W. B. Mac-Sherry and the Lincoln Nevada Mining & Milling company to compel the de-fendants to transfer to him 200,000 shares of the stock in the company for shares of the stock in the company for his services in securing a purchaser for the property now in the hands of the corporation. It is alleged that Medbury agreed with MacSherry on June 15, 1996, to find parties who would put up the necessary funds to purchase the property and launch the company and that MacSherry agreed to give him 200,000 shares of stock for his services. The deal was consummated by plaintiff, but he claims that the defendants have not given him the stock. In the event that the stock cannot be secured he asks judgment against defendants for the sum of $100,000, the value thereof. He also asks that the company be restrained from transferring stock to MacSherry until he has paid plaintiff the stock coming to him.

HERE TO CLOSE DEAL.

Byron E. Hartwell Interested in Promising Copper Group.

A well known Park Cityite, Byron E. Hariwell, is in the city for the purpose of closing up a deal which involves the sale of a large block of stock in the Utah First National Mining company, which owns a group of claims not far from the city cemetery in Park City.

Fine copper and silver values were Fine copper and silver values were obtained near the surface in the big fissure that crops through the property and a shaft is now being sunk to develop it. At a depth of 90 feet the line is becoming highly mineralized with pyrites of iron and the expectation is that the vein will be shortly exposed and that fine values will be encountered.

Over a mile from this property in the mouth of Thayne's canyon, or rather on the northwest side of it, a shaft was sunk in a fissure a few years ago that was trending in the direction of the First National property and which was First National property and which was so open that the passing over it of the Rio Grande Western trains, away out in the flat near the First National ground, were so distinctly heard by the workmen that they often felt as though the wheels were passing close to them. The property in the Thayne canyon is now a portion of the holdings of the Silver King Consolidated company.

WORKING TOM MOORE. Bingham Property Near Lead Mill is

Active Again. Work on the Tom Moore group at the lead mill in Bingham has been resumed. A contract has been let for the extension of the tunnel a distance of 1,000 feet. This is the first part of extensive plans for the development of the property.

Work in the tunnel was suspended last December on account of the caving in of the tunnel, caused by the heavy shooting on the railroad. At the point where the work was stopped there were fine stringers of copped there were fine stringers of copper ore running across the face.

The first work will be cleaing out the first work will be cleaing out the tunnel and timbeing it up, and the work of development will be pushed rapidly. The company has enough money in the treasury to justify them in crowding things, and it is expected that in a short time the large ore bodies believed to cross the territory will be reached.

The Tom Moore lies close to the Bingham Consolidated property at Lark and is in a good locality.

DOLLY VARDEN SHOWING.

The showings at Dolly Varden improve with development, says the White Pine News. Supt. Charles F. Phelen, of the Root intersts there, was in Cherry Creek a few days ago, and said that the Victoria shaft was 56 feet deeper in sulphides than when he took hold of the operations. The new hoist has been installed and two shifts of miners are kept at work.

The Victoria shaft has an interesting listory. It was started by a group of men from the United States mint at Washington in the "70's because the ore is suitable for alloy in coining money. Distance from transportation lines caused the enterprise to be abandoned at that time.

IS NOW A BROKER.

Lewis H. Beason Leaves the "News' To Engage in Business.

Lewis H. Beason, for a number of years, mining editor of the "News" ioday severs that connection and with Louis D. Gordon will open a mining and brokerage business at once. Mr. Jordon is the man who made the first rich discoveries in the Round Mountain district. Nev., cleaning up a fortune in a few months. Under the arm name of Gordon & Heason these two men are today conducting a "house warming" in their suite of offices in the Herald building. Mr. Gordons warming in their suite of offices in the Herald building. Mr. Gordon retains heavy interests and holdings in the Round Mountain district but he plans making his permanent home in this city, where he is already heavily interested in real estate and other holdings. Mr. Beason has lived in Salt Lake for a number of years and as his work has taken him all over the mining west he is known in every camp within the intermountain region. Both men are as popular as they are well known.

"The firm holds a seat on the Mining Exchange and the brokerage end of the business will be looked after by Mr. Beason.

In his long association with the Descret News Mr. Beason thoroughly established himself in the good will, not only of the paper and its management, but with all of the staff members, the mining and business men of the community and the general public. Mr. Beason's knowledge of mining and but with all of the staff members, the mining and business men of the community and the general public. Mr. Beason's knowledge of mining and mining affairs covers a wide range, and only many men in the business has had a better opportunity in recent years to judge of the merits and demerits of the big and prospectively big properties of Utah and surrounding states. Besides Mr. Beason is careful and conservative to a marked degree and whatever advice he gives or moves he makes should be along sound and sane lines. In parting with his services the "News" does so regretfully and trusts that the highest measure of posperity may attend his efforts in a field he is so eminently qualified to enter. In this connection it also desirss to bespeak the good will of the mining public for Mr. Geo. L. Gelger who is to succeed him as mining editor on this paper.

COPPER BELT ACCIDENT.

Col. E. A. Wall's Mill in Bingham Canyon Demolished.

col. Wall's "Jim Crow" concentrating mill in Bingham canyon is a wreck today on account of another serious accident on the Copper Belt railroad, which occurred about midnight Friday. While coming down the mountain with a train of two loaded cars of ore engine No. 3 got beyond the control of the train crew and came tearing down the mountain at terrific speedo. At a point just above the mill the runaway train jumped the track and crashed into the plant demolishing it almost completely. A barn belonging to C. E. Adderly was also destroyed and a horse contained therein received severe bruises. The damage to the Wall mill is estimated to be about $10,000.

It is the greatest wonder in the damage to the Wall mill is estimated to be about $10,000.

It is the greatest wonder in the world that the trainmen were not killed; but they took the desperate chance of saving their lives by jumping shortly before the engine left the track. No one was seriously injured except Fireman Charles Carlson who sustained the injury of a broken leg. Conductor McCaffrey, Engineer Rawles and Brakeman Glimer, got off with slight bruises. Accidents have been quite frequent lately on the Copper Belt. The road has been taxed to the limit with traffic for some time which probably accounts for the great number of fatalities which have occurred within the past few months.
